

Sub-Program	3. Industrial Human Resource Development
Component	3. Industrial Human Resource Development
Accepting University (Number of Scholars)	Hiroshima University (2) Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences Division of Educational Sciences, International Education Development Program - Master of Education - Master of Philosophy - Master of International Cooperation Studies
Expected Research Area	- Human resource development strategies - Quality improvement in education - Policy formulation and system building related to technical and vocational education
Purpose of the Study (Background and Needs):
The Lao PDR's "the 9th National Socio-Economic Development" (2021-2025) identifies quality human resources development as a priority issue, and states that Laos will develop human resources that contribute to national development, have research capabilities, respond to scientific and technological needs and produce value-added production and services.	