Trinh Kim Ngan (JDS 2019-2021), International Christian University: University of Social Sciences and Humanities (VNU-HCMC)

As an ICU student, I developed a new perspective on how liberal arts education manifests at the level of graduate studies. Here, my strengths in language proficiency were fostered, along with my research, leadership and teamwork skills. The discussion-based classes, seminars, international conferences and study field trips allow me to converse with fellows from different cultural and political backgrounds, thus deepening my understanding of interdisciplinary issues and knowledge. After the two-year research journey, besides the knowledge obtained in the field of public administration, ICU helped me become a responsible and mindful researcher in an ever-changing world.

Nguyen Tran Quang (JDS 2019 - 2021), Hiroshima University: Ha Noi Power Corporation, Viet Nam Electricity, Ministry of Industry and Trade

Being able to live and study in Japan was a precious opportunity for me. I had a great chance to experience a modern education system as well as with the unique "Japanese standard" working style. Universities in Japan have advanced research methods, so that we can have great opportunities to practically apply the knowledge into real life. Thanks to JDS scholarship, I have significantly gained my logical thinking and got more multi-dimensional perspectives. Challenge yourself, your efforts will be rewarded!

Nguyen Thi Ngoc Mai (JDS 2019-2021), Rikkyo University: Center for Financial Information and Technology, Department of Finance of Vinh Phuc Province

JDS has given me chance to experience the two invaluable years and immerse myself in the liberal academics, the education that cultivates truly globally-minded people, where students are able to think and act on their own, and live in harmony with the world at Rikkyo

University. Surrounded by admirable beautiful people, I was truly motivated by the excellent learning environment, enlightened by the constant support from professors with outstanding expertise. Moreover, the diverse activities at Rikkyo indeed inspired me to engage myself in this extraordinary journey without fear and hesitation. Nevertheless, the privilege of living in one of the most dynamic cities in the world - Tokyo, made my everyday life so exciting and enjoyable. When I first knew that I got the chance to come to Japan, I thought that I was lucky, but being here, I think I was really blessed. I don't think those precious chances like this come often in life, so please, go for it, fight for it, and be tough for it because you it's really worth your effort.
